Great game, crazy potential, needs updates. Here are my suggestions that would really help this game. First, just time, the game is modeled way quickly, you put the predator and it instantly sprint to go eat prey, please slow down the process down, maybe feeding time or something like that, and the predator without food dies within 30 seconds, please do it last longer, and it will give us more time to enjoy the game and not worry about putting down so many animals, the next idea is if the predators will fight, that would be great it happens in real life, so it would be epic seeing a rare case where 2 predators in the game fight, it would be even cooler if the winner would be a surprise that would be so interesting, then the ocean, please put more animals there they are happy to see What's going on perhaps dolphins, the most important update I would like to see is a time situation, predators fighting predators (only sometimes), and more animals, like shark hawks tigers and the like, it would also be great if there were more things to edit the world, but please all these needs of the game some updates and it would be epic so please rush to edit-congratulations you have a game with unlimited potential and were lazy to do something, don't worry, someone else will take this idea and reach your potential Topia World Builder - fascinating to create a unique look for our planet.
